Comment Reasons:

Comment: Apart from a decent school the existing grounds are adequate to rebuild on.

Whitegates park is not in Lenzie. Sub soil contamination meant that it was not feasible for previous schools to be built. The cost is excessive and have and will spiral. This is an accessible area for disabled, wheelchair users the elderly and rehabilitation. It is a thriving wildlife haven. The catchment for lenzie academy extends to robroyston and more homes are being built there so if a new site is required it should be built towards that area. Kirkintilloch has enough schools and traffic congestion caused by them is already overwhelming
